TO ALL MEMBERS OF PRESS, RADIO AND TELEVISION:

This book has been prepared to assist you in coverage of the Detroit Pistons Basketball Club during the pre-season training period, exhibition season and regular 1964-65 National Basketball Association season.

Any additional requirements for statistical material, feature stories, interviews, etc., will be handled as expeditiously as possible either by George Maskin or myself. Both of us are at your service, day or night.

Our training camp will be open on Monday, September 14 at St. Clair High School Gymnasium. We will stay at Burkemo's in St. Clair, Michigan, from Monday, September 14 through Monday, September 21st.

We invite you to come up to St. Clair at anytime and will be happy to arrange for any accomodations you may require during your stay there.

Press credentials for regular-season home games will be sent to you at a later date. However, I sincerely hope you will circle October 21st on your calendar. That's the evening the Pistons will open the 1964-65 home season at Cobo Arena against the San Francisco Warriors.

"1964-65 OUTLOOK"

By Coach Charley Wolf

Only one player remains from last year's opening day lineup. The Pistons will definitely sport the "new" look. The "new" look is designed for speed, agressiveness, versatility and a playoff berth.

The speed centers around our new men. Joe Caldwell, our top draft choice, and the three men acquired in our trade with Baltimore, Dischinger, Kojis and Thorn, all can run and are good fast-break men.

Donnis Butcher leads the way in agressiveness. He will be aided in this area by a determined, ever-improving Ray Scott, an inspiring Dave DeBusschere, hustling Jackie Moreland and newcomer Hub Reed.

Our versatility lies in DeBusschere, Dischinger, Kojis and Caldwell who can play either Forward or Guard and in Scott and Reed who can play Center or Forward.

All of this adds up to a playoff spot if we can: 1. Get the ball off the board and, 2. Tighten up the defense. Reggie Harding's development can really give us a lift in both areas. At times last year he showed it could be done. If done consistently we could become a contender.

Dischinger could become the finest all-around star in the League. Thorn should be the "take charge" leader of the bast-break that we have sought. Scott should be the steady, dependable, clutch performer of last season and Harding could be one of the top rebounders and shot-blockers in the National Basketball Association.

There are a few "if's" but if some come through, we'll make the playoff and if most come through, we could battle it out for the top spot.

Any team can win in the Western Division because of the balance and it might well be the team that jumps off to a good start.

Boston, with Russell, is the team to beat in the East, but Cincinnati might easily cvertake them. New York has some fine young talent and just might finish ahead of Philadelphia, particularly if the 76'ers continue to be plagued with injuries.

It should be an interesting National Basketball Association season with exciting basketball every game.

FRED ZOLLNER

BASKETBALL PIONEER

Detroit Pistons' President Fred Zollner is one of the pioneers of major league basketball, organizing his first professional team in 1941 as an entry in the National Basketball League.

Success on the basketball floor was not long in coming to the president of the Fort Wayne piston-manufacturing corporation that bears his name. Bolstered by such stars as Bobby McDermott, Paul Birch and Buddy Jeanette (formerly of the Detroit Eagles and new coach of the Baltimore Bullets), the Pistons won the National Basketball League championship four straight years (1943 through 1946) and captured three world tournaments (1944-45-46) in Chicago Stadium, then recognized as the pinnacle of pro cage fame.

Zollner and his Pistons led three other N.B.L. teams into the Basketball Association of America in 1948 and the following year joined the National Basketball Association, an amalgamation of the old N.B.L. and the rival B.A.A.

In 1954-55, the Pistons won their first Western Division championship even though forced to play all playoff games on neutral or opponents' courts due to the presence of the American Bowling Congress tournament at Fort Wayne Coliseum, then the Pistons' home base. After hurdling Minneapolis in the semi-finals for the divisional flag, the Pistons extended Eastern Champion Syracuse to the full seven games before bowing in the title game, 92-91.

The Pistons repeated as Western Division Champions in 1955-56 and were beaten in the world championship playoffs by Philadelphia.

Despite two consecutive divisional pennants, attendance at Fort Wayne failed to improve and Zollner decided to move his club to a city with major league standards. He decided to wait, however, until after the 1956-57 season, which saw the Pistons share first place in the regular season race with St. Louis and Minneapolis, then bow in the first round of the playoffs.

Through his long affiliation with automotive leaders in Detroit, and because of his firm belief that the Motor City is the world's finest sports town, Zollner negotiated to bring the Pistons to Detroit in the spring of 1957.

In the seven years the Pistons have played in Detroit, they have reached the playoffs six times. Zollner has strived, through rebuilding, to bring the Motor City its first championship in the National Basketball Association.

COACH CHARLEY WOLF

Just how the wheel of life will turn and where it will stop, nobody knows. Take the case of Charley Wolf, coach of the Detroit Pistons Basketball Club. Back in 1947, when Wolf was a student at the University of Notre Dame, he would have told me that his aspirations in professional sports rested with baseball.

The fact is, Wolf dropped out of Notre Dame to sign with the Cincinnati Reds. For seven years he roved around the Reds' farm chain. He literally saw the country with stops at Ogden, Utah; Columbia, S.C.; Charleston, W. Va.; Saginaw, Mich.; Richmond, Va., and Scranton, Pa. He played first base most of the time.

By 1954, Wolf could see the handwriting on the wall. His chances of making it with the Reds were virtually nil. So he dropped out of baseball, re-entered college at Xavier University in Cincinnati.

Wolf then accepted the dual positions of head basketball and baseball coach at Villa Madonna College in his hometown of Covington, Kentucky. The following year the chores of athletic director were added to his work load. Wolf spent six years at Villa Madonna, with his basketball teams winning 81 and losing 56.

In 1960, the Cincinnati Royals of the National Basketball Association hired Wolf as their coach. The Royals missed the playoffs in Wolf's first year by one game. The following year, the Royals jumped to second place with a 43-37 record. In 1962-63 the Royals won 42, lost 38, then ousted Syracuse to gain the Eastern Division finals against the Boston Celtics. A seven-game battle ensued before the Celtics conquered the Royals.

With the Pistons last season, Wolf had his problems. A siege of injuries which hit all but one regular, resulted in the Pistons failing to make the playoffs.

In the off-season, however, Wolf has rebuilt the Pistons and is confident the Club will rebound in 1964-65.

His wife, Loraine, was a former television actress in Cincinnati and they have three sons.

VETERAN N.B.A. PLAYERS

DONNIS BUTCHER

Donnis hails from Pikeville College (Kentucky). He stands 6'3, weighs 200. Age 28. He is starting his third year in the NBA. Donnis is described by Coach Wolf as the "hard-nosed" type. Very solid on defense and a fine playmaker. He has the knack of coming off the bench and sparking a rally. He was an original draft choice of the New York Knickerbockers for whom he played two seasons before coming to the Pistons last December. Donnis shared the Pistons' assist lead last season with Ray Scott. Married with two children.

DAVE DE BUSSCHERE

Dave hails from the University of Detroit. Stands 6'6, weighs 220 - age 24. Dave is starting his third season in the National Basketball Association. He had a brilliant rookie season in 1962-63 with the Pistons averaging 12.7 points and snaring 694 rebounds. A fractured ankle kept him sidelined in all but fifteen of the Pistons games last season. Coach Charley Wolf is expecting DeBusschere to figure prominently in rebuilding of the Pistons for 1964-65. DeBusschere gained All-American honors at University of Detroit, twice leading Titans to NIT playoffs, once to the NCAA. He received upwards of $75,000 for signing as pitcher with the Chicago White Sox. Dave has spent this season with the Chisox' top farm team at Indianapolis, Indiana in the Pacific Coast League. He was great at Detroit's Austin High School in basketball and baseball before entering U of D., where he also pitched the Titans into the NCAA playoffs three years running. Single. High Game in NBA was 31 points versus San Francisco 3-5-60.

TERRY DISCHINGER

Terry hails from Purdue University. He stands 6'7, weighs 205 - Age 24. He is starting his third season in the NBA. Dischinger came to Pistons in off-season deal with Rod Thorn and Don Kojis from Baltimore in exchange for Bailey Howell, Don Ohl, Bob Ferry, Leslie Hunter and Wally Jones. He was three-time All-American at Purdue and played on 1960 U. S. Olympic team. In first NBA year he was voted as "Rookie-of-the-Year" (1962-63) and averaged 25.5. first season,;20.8 in second year as pro after smashing most of the Big Ten's and Purdue's scoring records. Terry is a fine rebounder and also a good playmaker. Among NBA's top field-goal percentage shooters, hitting at 50 percent clip. He specializes in fast break which is bound to help the Pistons in their fight back to a playoff spot in the Western Division. Regularly shoots in 80's on golf links. Married, two children.

ROBERT DUFFY

Bob hails from Colgate University. He stands 6'3, weighs 185 - Age 25. He is starting his third season in the N.B.A. Has seen only sparing action as a pro. He originally broke in with the St. Louis Hawks who shipped him to New York at start of last season. The Pistons obtained him last December from New York. Bob is rated as a player with "fine pro potential." Fast dribbler and playmaker. Scored 1,591 points in 70 games at Colgate. Hit for 26.6 average as senior. Bob now makes his home in Detroit where he is in insurance business with Jackie Moreland. Married and expecting first child in January.

Ray hails from Portland University. He stands 6'9, weighs 215 - Age 26. Ray is starting his fourth season in the N.B.A., all with the Pistons. He was the most valuable performer on the team last season, pacing the Club in rebounding. Ray also shared assists lead with Donnis Butcher. Scott attended Portland University for a year and a half, then starred for three seasons with the Allentown (Pa.) Jets in the Eastern League before being drafted by the Pistons. He is a durable performer, only Piston to appear in all 80 of the team's games last season. Ray was second in scoring with 17.6 point average to bring his N.B.A. average to 15.7. He enjoys working with youngsters in the off-season. Spent five weeks this summer at Pistons' camp in Caro, Michigan. Hometown is in Philadelphia where he works with juvenile authorities to care for boys from broken homes.

JOE "POGO" CALDWELL Height: 6'5 Weight: 195 Age: 22

Joe hails from Arizona State. He is a member of forthcoming U.S. Olympic team which means that he'll be in Tokyo when NBA season starts. He is the first draft choice of the Pistons and is scheduled to join the Pistons around November 1st. Joe is originally from Texas City, Texas and one of eleven children. His home is now in Los Angeles where he attended high school. Joe won all-city and all-american honors as prep. Scored 1518 pts in 3 years at Arizona State for all-time school record. Totaled 929 rebounds and averaged 45.8 as a shooter in collegiate ranks. He's a speedster on the court, who can leap "like mad". Despite his size he has soared upwards of 6'8" as a member of Arizona State's track team. Caldwell should become a Piston starter as soon as he acclimates himself to the pro ranks.
